

Media Release

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

TIBIYO TAKA NGWANE OFFERS 250 SCHOOL BURSARIES

Lozitha, 11 January 2017 - Tibiyo Taka Ngwane is pleased to once again offer bursaries to 250 children. These bursaries will cover primary and high school fees and examination fees during the 2017 school year.

As a proudly Swazi organisation, we want to congratulate the awardees of the bursary and challenge them to work hard in their academic commitments.

Tibiyo Taka Ngwane believes that every child deserves access to quality education, regardless of their social and economic status or background. The organization believes that education is the most powerful tool that we can put at the hands of our children if we are to succeed in eradicating poverty, fighting HIV and AIDS, and to achieve sustainable livelihoods. Our bursary support responds to, and complements the national social and economic programme driven by the Government of the Kingdom of Swaziland, which places education, training and skills development at the centre of sustainable human development.

Importantly, His Majesty the King has repeatedly challenged all of us to ensure that we invest in the education of our children in order for this country to achieve its social and economic goals, particularly the dream of a First World status. Our conviction is that for this nation to achieve and sustain Vision 2022, it must groom a generation that is educated and highly skilled, not only to be able to articulate this national Vision, but to also become agents of the change we all want to see in their homes, communities and the country. Given the deepening levels of poverty in many families, this education support ensures that parents of children caught up in this vicious web can, at least, rest easy knowing that their children will have an education regardless of the situation they live under at home.

As an organization, we always thrive to support the Government of the Kingdom of Swaziland to extend its reach to children in communities that it cannot reach, and where possible, even collaborate to stimulate social development and economic growth.